

Autism Summer Internship Program 2018

LaunchAbility® is partnering with AT&T to deliver the future through a Summer Internship Program designed for individuals on the Autism Spectrum. Our Summer Internship Program, in partnership with AT&T, is your chance to gain experience while seeing your career potential.

In addition, job coaching and workplace soft skills training will be provided to interns in this Program.

So what are we looking for in a summer intern candidate? Creativity and strong collaboration skills are a must, along with a competitive edge to help drive results. You'll also need to be naturally curious about the many innovations being fostered at AT&T every day.

The desired major/field of study will be in:

Finance
Computer Engineering
Electrical Engineering
Computer Science
Information Systems/Technology
Industrial Engineering
MIS
Mathematics
Software Engineering
Arts, Technology, Emerging Communication

Undergraduate, Master's and Recent Graduate students are encouraged to apply.

Interns will be paid for their work. The program runs from June to August 2018. Specific job tasks will be provided at a later date.

If you are looking for an opportunity to explore career opportunities and to chart a pathway for your future, look no further than our Autism Summer Internship Program.

Please email autismtraining@launchability.org to apply and for more information.
